Ethan,

How are you doing? I hope your ok. Rachel was able to take your picture off the Army web site & sent it to Mom who put it on her face book page. Machelle said congrats + good job.. Sciller Harrison Requested your address so Rachel sent it to him, he wanted to write to you.

We got to see the 40 foot tower you propelled from + a whole bunch of other courses you went Thru. Pretty Cool I think to see some of the things you go thru. in the army basic training.

I couldn't believe there were so many women in basic, training.

I also saw the guy on crutches, I Really feel sorry for him, I can't imagine marching on crutches.

I feel for you with your feet problem I know what your going thru. when I was in basic my feet were so swollen I couldn't tie my boots.

On the army webpage people are upset that the army won't give a definate date on your Christmas break. a Lot of people need to make airline ticket reservations before they get all booked up, with the Christmas Rush for seats on the planes. Well at least we don't need to worry about that.

I'll let you go for now and write again tomorrow.

Remember we love you very much!
